

ANNOUNCEMENT

HEDNO would like to announce that this evening, on Monday 15 February 2021 and until this hour, the most serious electricity supply issues due to the Medea weather system have been restored.

The reconnection of supply for Sporades started at 16:00 and was completed by 17:00 after the restoration of damages caused by the fall of trees on two Medium Voltage lines supplying the islands at the mainland part of the Network in Pilio. HEDNO would like to warmly thank the Fire Service and the Region of Thessalia for their valuable contribution in this effort and the crews of the Company will continue works towards the full restoration of all damages at all lines that supply the islands.

In Attica, problems have been fixed in areas where the fall of trees have caused damages at the Network and until this hour, the crews are restoring individual damages in the Northern Suburbs as well as damages in smaller settlements in the area of Oropos.

In Evia, efforts are still ongoing to reconnect electricity supply for several villages from the central network to the Northern network, namely in Chalkidiki towards Agios Ioannis Rosos and the mountain villages of Istiaia since there are severe damages at the Network and a great number of broken poles.

In the rest of Greece, damages have been restored and there are no other serious damages at the Network due to the bad weather.
